SCHOOLBOYS KILLED TEACHER WHO GAVE THEM DETENTION

By SUZIE SHELDON news@sundaysport.co.uk

TWO 16-year-old schoolboys have been charged with murdering their Spanish teacher, after she gave them detention.

The body of Nohema Graber, 66, was found dumped in a park hours after she was first reported missing, according to officials.

Two of her students, Willard Miller and Jeremy Goodale, have been charged with first-degree murder.

It's no jab, no job for NHS staff

FRONTLINE NHS staff in England must be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 to keep their job.

Health Secretary Sajid Javid says workers who face the public have until next April to get both jabs.

Between 80,000 and 100,000 NHS staff in England are unvaccinated, says Chris Hopson, head of NHS Providers.

Thursday is the deadline for care home workers in England to get vaccinated.

The flu jab will not be mandatory and there are exemptions for the COVID vaccine requirement for medical reasons.

The jab is not needed for health workers in Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

Mr Javid said numbers in the social care sector taking up the vaccine "absolutely surged" after it was made compulsory.

Death crash mum in court

A MOTHER has appeared in court charged with killing two of her children in a crash on the M1.

Mary McCann attended Aylesbury Crown Court via video-link from HMP Bronzefield on two counts of causing death by dangerous driving.

McCann, from Derby, is charged over the deaths of son Smaller, 10, and daughter Lilly, four, after a Vauxhall Astra was involved in a collision with a Scania HGV near Milton Keynes on August 9.

Another child survived with minor injuries. The 35-year-old was remanded in custody to Dec 10.

TRAGIC DOG DEATH BOY NAMED

A 10-YEAR-OLD boy killed by a dog has been named as Jack Lis.

The lad was visiting a friend when the American bulldog-type breed savaged him.

Neighbours were unable to save Jack from the attack, and a police marksman later killed the dog at the house.

His mum Emma, 32, wrote "with so much heartbreak" saying: "I have to announce our beautiful boy Jack was taken so tragically yesterday. It was not our dog nor did it happen at our family home. He was out to play.

"We love you so much our sweet, sweet boy."

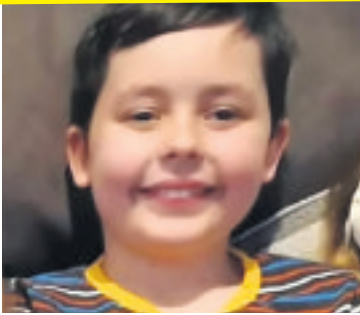

The boys are pupils at Cwm Ifor Primary School at Penyrheol, Caerphilly, South Wales, and came home together before the attack at 3.55pm. Jack lives in a neighbouring street but stopped at his friend's house on the way home.

Police said investigations into the attack were ongoing. Chief Superintendent Mark

Hobrough said: "My condolences and thoughts are with Jack's family, friends, school friends and everyone affected by this within the community."

"We can confirm that the attack did not happen in the house owned by Jack's family, but inside another property on a nearby street."

"Officers are continuing to make further enquiries at this time and will remain at the scene as the investigation progresses."

Voters get g-Owen to the polls

VOTERS will choose a successor to Owen Paterson next month after the Government officially triggered a by-election.

The Commons Standards Committee wanted the former Tory minister suspended from Parliament for 30 days after committing an "egregious" breach of a ban on paid lobbying by MPs.

After a botched Government bid to delay the ban, he announced his resignation as MP for North Shropshire.

It is considered to be an ultra-safe seat for the Tories, with Mr Paterson having held it since 1997.

But the ongoing sleaze row has given hope to other parties contesting the seat.

At the 2019 general election, Mr Paterson won almost 63% of the vote and beat Labour by nearly 23,000 votes, with the Lib Dems coming third.

The by-election will take place on December 16.

The writ for the by-election started Tuesday's business in the House Of Commons.

MORE than 11,600 people died after catching COVID-19 in NHS hospitals, shock new data reveals.

Thousands of people who went into hospitals for unrelated treatment ended up contracting coronavirus and dying.

Figures from a new study show that 11,688 people who died on wards are likely to have caught COVID-19 in hospitals.

been the deadliest silent killer of the pandemic.

"It surely only strengthens the case for mandatory vaccination for all frontline healthcare staff."

The report comes as Prime Minister Boris Johnson urged those eligible to book their booster vaccinations.

He told broadcasters during a visit to a hospital in Hexham, in the North East: "I'm here to look at what we're doing to encourage people to get their booster jabs and that is the single most important thing the Government can do at the present time. Sadly, what you've got at the moment is a situation in which the waning of the original two jabs is starting to see too many elderly people getting into hospital."

"Sadly, the jabs do wane. We've done 10 million booster jabs already and it's a very effective thing."

Booster

"It's a wonderful thing, you get 95% more protection, so I'm encouraging everybody today to go online if you've gone over five months, you can go online and book."

The NHS has opened bookings for those needing a booster if five months have passed since their second dose so they can have a top-up jab at the six-month point.

The number of coronavirus cases in the UK has fallen by nearly a quarter in just a week.

A further 32,322 positive tests were recorded on Monday, down 24% from 40,077 seven days previously.

But a further 57 people lost their lives to COVID-19, up from 40 seven days ago.

Over the past seven days 1,191 have died after catching the virus, up 8% in a week.

The number of COVID cases after a positive test is falling, with 30,305 recorded on Sunday, pushing the number of confirmed infections in the country above 9,300,000.

Son cut up 'devil' mum

A MAN who cut his mum's head off, believing her to be the devil, has been sentenced to an indefinite hospital order.

Ernest Grusza, 41, chopped 59-year-old Wieslawa Mierzejaska into 11 pieces in her flat in St Ives, Cambridge Crown Court was told.

He wrapped her body parts in clingfilm and put them in a cupboard and a fridge, said judge the Honourable Mr Justice Fraser.

He added: "One of his delusions was that his mother was the devil. He was told by God to kill her, and dismember her body, in order to destroy the devil."

"He was convinced she would resurrect if he poured holy water upon her dismembered body parts."

MASK-FREE BORIS SLAMMED

DOMINIC RAAB has defended Boris Johnson after he was pictured not wearing a mask during a visit to a hospital.

"He followed all the advice and all the guidance that he got at all times, I think that's the right thing for all of us to do," the Deputy Prime Minister said.

Johnson has been criticised after pictures emerged of him not wearing a face covering at Hexham General Hospital in Northumberland, although he did wear a mask at some points.

Asked if the PM had forgotten to put one on, Mr Raab replied: "Like many of us, we take the advice and guidance that we've got in different settings and that's the right thing for us to do as politicians and it's the right thing for the public to do."

The Prime Minister was at the hospital as part of the government's push for booster jabs.

Matthew Taylor from the NHS Confederation says it is "unfortunate" that the PM was seen without a mask.

Asked before why he doesn't wear a covering indoors all the time, Mr Johnson said: "I've been wearing a mask in confined spaces when with people I don't normally meet."

HEIDI Klum left little to the imagination as she took to Instagram to share a very steamy snap.

The model, 48, sent temperatures soaring as she sprawled out on her bed sheets in nothing but a brown bra featuring delicate butterflies.

She covered her modesty with a plate of pie, while playing with her sandy locks and showcasing her incredibly toned pins.

Heidi was sure to send temperatures soaring in the sizzling snap shared with her 8.7million Instagram followers.

With a phone, laptop and a tray of breakfast favourites to hand, the America's Got Talent judge appeared to be in her element.

Moist

She teased: "Oh! My! Yummy Pie!" followed by a cheeky emoji with its tongue out.

Naturally enough, as "pie" is a euphemism for a lady's moist parts, the picture caused a frenzy when it was reproduced on the website of the hate-filled Daily Mail.

A Mail reader from the unlovely London area of Southall made a mildly-racist comment: "She's normally on the BBC." BBC is slang for Big Black Cock.

Another yelled: "Seal feasted on that for years."

Rugby star's salad cream squirt stunt

JAMES Haskell took revenge on a French woman who stole a parking space in Paris by spraying salad cream into her car.

The former England rugby player, 36, said the incident happened when he was living in the city while playing for Stade Français.

He said: "I was just about to pull my car in and this French lady in this rascal little shoebox with dents in it whips it straight in."

"She just looked at me, shrugged and walked off. I was incandescent with rage."

"So I went back. There was a small crack in the window and I happened to have a thing of salad cream with me and I popped it through the window and I squeezed it with the power of Thor and it may have made the interior of her car look like a painter and decorator's radio."

"I promise you she'll never do that again... it wasn't a great moment."

KIM'S BEST BARE BITS!

ODD ONE OUT: Kim (far left) is missing from the new show

By SIMON DEAN simon@sundaysport.co.uk

MILF fans are rejoicing after Sex and the City bosses revealed Kim Cattrall's cougar Samantha Jones WON'T be killed off.

Instead, her absence from the new series of the iconic show is explained as a falling out with Sarah Jessica Parker's character Carrie Bradshaw.

Insiders say the writers have left the plot open for Cattrall's return and are hoping she'll come back to reprise her role.

"We'll announce eventually that the show will have a second season. This isn't a one off, this will be a series," they said.

"It will be quite a while between the first and second series as Sarah Jessica Parker has a busy schedule and we have a lot of work to do to get Kim Cattrall back."

Spoiler

"We all miss Kim and we hope she comes back for the second season – the door will never close on her. She is an important part of the franchise," they added.

The insiders gave a spoiler into Cattrall's departure.

"We get into her absence very quickly," they said. "Viewers will learn that they have fallen out over Carrie firing Samantha as her publicist and no longer talk. This effectively ends their friendship."

"You'll see as the series progresses over 10 episodes that Carrie misses her friend and wants to make up."

"In the words of Oscar Wilde, life imitates art."

Kim Cattrall and Sarah Jessica Parker famously had a falling out and Cattrall refused to join the reboot.

Just to remind us what a disaster Kim's departure would be, here are her best bare bits from previous series...

Petition aims to keep Corden out of Wicked

A PETITION to block James Corden from starring in the film adaptation of the blockbuster musical Wicked has passed 50,000 signatures.

If fans get their wish, Gavin & Stacey creator Corden will not appear in the movie, which fills in the backstory of The Wizard Of Oz.

The 43-year-old actor and TV host (above) was widely panned for his roles in film adaptations of Cats and The Prom.

The online petition calling for him to be barred from Wicked states: "James Corden in no way shape or form should be in or near the production of Wicked the movie. That's pretty much it."

The petition, aimed at producers Universal Studios, has so far attracted more than 53,000 signatures.

Signatories cited reasons including "we've suffered enough" and "he must be stopped".

Corden, a household name in the US thanks to his The Late Late Show, is yet to publicly respond to the petition.

A TOP accountant used his work phone to ring premium rate sex chatlines during his lunch breaks.

Usman Khalid racked up more than £1,300 in telephone bills in just 11 days while working for KPMG in Manchester, a disciplinary panel heard.

The assistant manager used his company phone to ring the X-rated lines almost 90 times while working from home.

Some calls lasted well over an hour.

But after receiving the bill, the firm launched an investigation and Mr Khalid was sacked.

Now Mr Khalid has received a severe reprimand from the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales, which ruled that he must now cough up more than £15,000 in fines and legal costs.

SOAP stars are uniting to fight back in support of Sarah Jayne Dunn who was sacked from Hollyoaks for refusing to shut down her OnlyFans account.

Corrie and Emmerdale bosses warned their casts that they would give any actor the boot for signing up for the subscription website.

And the edict prompted fury from stars angry at being told what they can and cannot do with their bodies.

They have made their displeasure known to bosses.

Sarah, 42, was fired by the Channel 4 show after being told her lingerie pics were bad for the programme's image.

When ITV bosses told their staff they too were banned from the site it prompted uproar.

Backing

A source said: "No one is actually planning on joining OnlyFans but it is the idea that bosses can control their bodies that has caused the issue.

"Women on the show are backing Sarah. This is 2021 and the idea of men in suits dictating what females can do with their bodies is infuriating.

"There's been contact with women in other soaps and talk of a strike

"It's a feminist issue. It's not about whether they want to join OnlyFans.

"The women involved don't want to be named and no one upstairs knows who is involved in the strike talk yet.

"And we have to be clear no one on Corrie or Emmerdale is planning on joining OnlyFans. They object to bosses demanding control of their bodies and image rights."

GREEN COUNCILLOR RED-FACED OVER FLIGHTS

A GREEN Party council leader flew from Gatwick to Glasgow to protest against climate change at COP26, it has emerged.

Councillor Phelim Mac Cafferty, (left) head of Brighton and Hove City Council's Green group, took the 80-minute flight on the day he criticised the Government for a lack of climate change action.

After the 460-mile journey, Cllr Mac Cafferty made a speech on cutting carbon emissions and appeared at a protest march, led by Greta Thunberg, calling for leaders to stop temperatures rising.

Mac Cafferty says he was worried his train might be cancelled. He said: "This decision to fly was a major failure of my judgement which goes against my political group's pledges and principles and I unreservedly apologise.

"I was concerned about the unreliability of the rail network following the well-publicised difficulties experienced by many people wanting to travel by train to Glasgow the week before, when trains were cancelled.

"I was concerned that this would happen again and I felt it was important not to miss the opportunity to attend the important presentation on behalf of the city, lobby world leaders and share with others the innovative work taking place in Brighton and Hove.

"I paid for my own transport and all associated costs. I am not getting paid for any of the speeches I am making or meetings I am attending and I am otherwise working from Glasgow.

"I will be offsetting the carbon cost of my journey. "I will be taking my return journey on train. Again, I apologise unreservedly."

'Cruising' blamed for destroying famous dunes

SCIENTISTS say British holidaymakers must stop having sex with strangers on Gran Canaria's famous sand dunes.

So many people are travelling to the Canary Island to have open-air illicit sex on the dunes that rare plants and bushes are being destroyed, research has found.

The study discovered 300 favourite locations on the vast area of sand on the south of the island, which have been protected as a nature reserve since 1987.

Researchers studied the impact on the dunes of 'cruising', which involves anonymous sexual encounters in public places.

They concluded that the activities have a direct impact on the dunes and on eight native plant species.

TEENS FROM HELL MURDERED THEIR TEACHER

DUMPED IN PARK: Nohema Graber had suffered head trauma

By SUZIE SHELDON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

TWO 16-year-old schoolboys have been charged with murdering their Spanish teacher, after one of them bragged about it on social media.

The body of Nohema Graber, a teacher at Fairfield High School in Fairfield, Iowa, was found dumped in a park hours after she was first reported missing.

The 66-year-old's body had been hidden in a wheelbarrow, tied up under a tarpaulin and she appeared to have been killed by "trauma to the head", court records show.

Blood

Two of her students, Willard Miller and Jeremy Goodale, have been charged with first-degree murder as well as conspiracy to commit a forcible felony.

The teens were charged as adults based on the circumstances of the gruesome crime, officials said.

They were arrested after an "associate" of Goodale provided investigators with social media exchanges showing he had specific details of the disappearance and subsequent death of his teacher.

"The details included the motive for killing Graber. One theory police are working on is that the boys reacted badly when the teacher gave them both detention," court papers show.

"Also included here is the planning and execution of the means to kill Graber, as well as deliberate attempts to conceal the crime."

The "associate" also showed social media communications indicative of Miller also being involved and present for the killing.

Investigators used the posts to obtain search warrants and found clothing that appeared to be covered in blood, the affidavit said.

When he was interviewed, Miller admitted being in the park as the murder was taking place, providing materials utilised in committing the murder, and aiding in actions taken to conceal the murder, the affidavit said.

Officials have not speculated on a possible motive, or given details on what the teens allegedly discussed in the social media messages.

Jefferson County Attorney Chauncey Moulding said there was no evidence suggesting the killing was racially motivated but promised his office would "absolutely follow the evidence".

Naked man gets stuck inside wall

A NAKED man was rescued from inside the walls of a theatre, where he'd be trapped for days.

Workers at the historic Landmark Theatre in Syracuse, New York, called 911 after they reported hearing someone banging on the walls and yelling for help.

Firefighters drilled a hole in the theatre wall and used a fibre-optic camera "to determine his exact location and how to best extricate him", the department said.

They drilled through several layers of drywall and structural clay tile before they were able to see the streaker.

The man, 39, had got into the crawlspace of the building, where he hid for two days without being exposed before he fell into a space in the wall of the men's bathroom and became trapped.

STUNNA Gemma Whelan has revealed actors were "left to get on with it" while filming "frenzied" sex scenes on Game Of Thrones.

The actress, who played Lady Yara Greyjoy on the hit fantasy show, explained: "They used to just say, 'when we shout action, go for it' and it could be a sort of frenzied mess. "A director might say 'bit of boob biting, then slap her bum and go!'"

However the star insisted actors would always "check in with each other" before filming sexual scenes.

Riding

She said: "There was a scene in a brothel with a woman and she was so exposed that we talked together about where the camera would be and what she was happy with."

Gemma's bisexual character Yara often engaged in raunchy scenes, most famously with her on-screen brother Alfie Allen.

In one infamous episode, the pair became very intimate while riding a horse.

During its eight-season run, Game Of Thrones became as well known for its steamy sex as it did for its violent battle sequences.

So it's a good time for us to revisit those saucy scenes, so we could decided for ourselves how frenzied they were...

Dough! Homer's home is worth half a million!

HOMER Simpson is sitting in a goldmine.

Turns out the Simpsons' house, located at 742 Evergreen Terrace in the fictional town of Springfield, is more than just priceless to fans.

If it actually existed in suburban America, the home would be worth close to half a million dollars, according to an estate agent.

Garretts Real Estate Group shared a tongue-in-cheek listing of the Simpsons' pad and estimated that the four-bedroom, 2½-bathroom home would cost $449,900 (£332,000) in today's market.

Over the last three decades Homer, Marge, Bart, Lisa and Maggie have moved around but always find themselves back in the Springfield home.

Garretts Real Estate revealed they came to their estimation after randomly looking at homes recently sold in Springfield, Oregon, since fans have long thought The Simpsons takes place in the state.

COBRA BITES SAFARI MAN ON THE COCK

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A DUTCH tourist had to have reconstructive surgery on his penis after a cobra bit his manhood during a safari trip in South Africa, causing it to rot.

The 47-year-old victim suffered scrotal necrosis after the attack by the cold-blooded serpent, which was lurking in the toilet bowl, according to Urology Case Reports.

In what the medical journal described as the first case of "snouted cobra envenomation of the genitals", the unidentified man had to wait three hours before he was flown by helicopter to the nearest trauma centre 220 miles away.

Vomiting

"His penis and scrotum were noted to be swollen, deep purple in colour, and painful on hospital admission. Scrotal necrosis was diagnosed and he received multiple doses of a non-specific snake venom antiserum and broad-spectrum antibiotics," the medical report stated.

The man reported vomiting and a burning sensation, as well as pain that shot up from his groin into the abdomen and upper chest, though he developed no neurological symptoms during the ordeal.

Tourist's knob ROTS after attack

He required hemodialysis due to acute kidney injury before undergoing reconstructive surgery.

"The scrotal necrosis was reported to involve the entire fascia (skin to internal spermatic) and was excised with extensive margins. Primary closure was performed, leaving a drain in situ," Urology Case Reports said.

"The defect in the penile shaft was treated by superficial debridement (cleaning) and a vacuum assisted closure pump. After nine days, the patient was repatriated to the Netherlands," it added.

A plastic surgeon later performed a "penile shaft procedure, with extensive resection of dead tissue extending into the corpus spongiosum to the fold of the preputium."

A graft from the groin was then placed over the penis.

The man is reported to have made a full recovery.

SpaceX crew came back in nappies

SPACEX astronauts who left the International Space Station on Sunday wore NAPPIES on the ride back to Earth due to a broken toilet on the company's flagship Dragon capsule.

NASA astronaut Megan McArthur said that while the situation is certainly "suboptimal," the crew were able to manage using nappies for their 20-hour ride home.

"Spaceflight is full of lots of little challenges," she said during a news conference from space.

"This is just one more that we'll encounter and take care of in our mission, so we're not too worried about it."

The astronauts uncovered the toilet leak after pulling up floor panels from the capsule.

Engineers determined the capsule was still safe for the ride back to Earth.

WE CAN'T GET ENOUGH WINE

NOW even the BOOZE is running out...

Winemakers are sounding the alarm on an impending global wine shortage as supplies are anticipated to have fallen to record lows in 2021 due to increasingly brutal weather, particularly in Europe's wine-producing regions.

Bad weather has already "severely impacted" wine production in Italy, Spain and France, according to the International Organisation of Vine and Wine, which has resulted in "extremely low" product volumes.

Vintners fear a projection that wine sales will return to high pre-pandemic levels and they won't be able to supply the renewed demand.

"We still expect the global consumption to increase compared to 2020," said OIVW's director general Pau Roca.

The report is based on data collected from 28 winemaking nations responsible for 85% of world production last year.

Estimated production in 2021 is around 250.3 million hectolitres (1 hectolitre equals about 133 bottles).

Throughout the EU, production is projected to fall to 145 million hectolitres, a drop of 13% from last year.

Poo bear left surprise on car back seat

A BEAR trashed a tripper's car and added insult to injury by SHITTING on the back seat!

In a Facebook post, the Aspen Police Department in Colorado shared a video of the vehicle as a reminder to "Be Bear Aware".

"Can you guess what's going on with this poor car? We didn't find it at the salvage yard, but it might be headed there now," the post read.

"This unlocked car was broken into and absolutely destroyed. The seats were shredded, the doors were torn to pieces, and the suspect left an extra special surprise in the back seat."

"We have a band of bandits in Aspen who will stop at nothing for a good snack. They'll raid your trees, your homes and, yes, even your car."

Bears can detect food from great distances.

A PAIR of Nike Air Ships trainers worn by Michael Jordan sold for a record-breaking £1.07million at auction earlier this month.

The basketball star wore the red and white pumps in his fifth NBA game in his rookie season with the Chicago Bulls in November 1984.

The shoes were sold to cards collector Nick Fiorella and set a new world record for the highest price achieved for a pair of trainers at auction, according to Sotheby's auction house.

The footwear also became the first pair of training shoes to sell for more than $1m at auction.

Kanye West's Nike Air Yeezy samples sold for $1.8m in a private sale in April, making them the most expensive "sneakers" in the world.

We haven't the budget to spend a million on a pair of pumps, but we've got better than that...

PURE EVIL:
Hansen
admitted to killing
17 women

FROZEN GROUND:
John Cusak
and Nicholas Cage in the 2013 film that told the Butcher
Baker story

fictional but based on a local sergeant named Glenn Flothe of the Alaska State Troopers who was instrumental in Hansen's capture.

Flothe had pursued potential suspects but noticed that Hansen fitted the bill.

It was a combination of the testimony of Cindy Paulson, the woman who escaped death, and Douglas's profiling which were key to a search warrant being obtained for the baker's house.

Burial

While searching Hansen's home, police found an aviation map of the area hidden in the headboard of his bed.

It was covered with tiny "X" marks denoting the kill and burial sites of his victims.

Some of the "X" tags matched up with where police had found bodies. There were 24 in all.

In his psychological profile of the killer, Douglas had predicted that the murderer would keep souvenirs from his prey. In the basement of Hansen's home, police found a large stash of jewellery.

And in the haul was a necklace that belonged to one of the victims.

Faced with telling evidence in 1984, Hansen – the Butcher Baker – confessed to murdering 17 women and raping another 30 over a 12-year period.

He was sentenced to 461 years plus life in prison without any chance of parole.

He was imprisoned at Spring Creek jail in Seward, Alaska, where he died in 2014 aged 75.

As part of a plea bargain, the Butcher Baker was only ever charged with four of the 17 murders he confessed to.

In exchange for the reduced conviction, Hansen agreed to assist in locating the other bodies plotted on his kill map.

Some have still not been found to this day.

But just last month, a woman known for decades as "Horseshoe

Harriet" was finally identified through new genetic genealogy and DNA technology.

"Horseshoe Harriet" was actually homeless teenager Robin Pelkey, who was living in Anchorage when she was killed by Hansen in the early 1980s.

Pelkey was just 19 years old when she disappeared.

Hero

Flothe did not want his name to be used in the film Frozen Ground because he felt that he was just doing his job.

"The reality is from my perspective is that I'm not the hero," he said.

"Cindy Paulson is the hero."

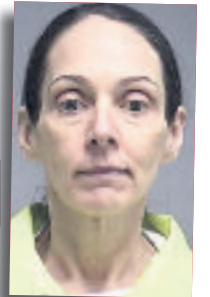

On hearing the news of Hansen's death, Flothe said: "On this day we should only remember his many victims and all of their families, and my heart goes out to all of them."

"As far as Hansen is concerned, this world is better without him."

MANIAC WOMAN 'CUT UP CRIMPER WITH ELECTRIC CARVING KNIFE'

Defence demand jury don't hear grisly evidence

VICTIM:
Crimper
Joleen

LAWYERS for an accused killer want evidence that she cut up her hairdresser victim with an electric carving knife kept from the jury.

Kimberly Kessler is accused of killing mum-of-three crimper Joleen Cummings and a nine-inch electric carving knife, bin bags, gloves and ammonia to be cut from court evidence.

By GRACE HOOPER

Police say Kessler was seen on camera buying the items from Walmart on the last night Joleen was known to be alive.

"We are not alleging that a carving knife is the instrument of death but it is the instrument of a cover-up," argue prosecutors.

Kessler was the last person to see co-worker Joleen leave the salon in Yulee, Florida, on May 12, 2018, say cops.

During the same time frame she stopped at Walmart, prosecutors argue Kessler was seen on video tossing bin bags into a skip twice.

In one video, she appears to struggle to lift the bag.

The defence called for the evidence to be excluded after Kessler was thrown out of court for screaming.

The defence said the carving knife and other items have never been found and there is no proof Cummings is dead.

The state argues the fact the knife has not been found is more proof that it was used because the victim's body has never been recovered.

The state also planned to call a forensic expert who ran an experiment showing if you could dismember a body using an electric carving knife.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

SPEND SPEND SPEND!

Councils love to waste other people's money

OTHER people's money is always the easiest to spend.

Up and down the country, local councils are going bust as mad councillors sign up to what they think are eye-catching schemes in the hope the public will vote for them in return.

Where I live, the latest fad – climate change – has offered all manner of opportunities for the good town hall burghers to dream up utter nonsense.

First they stopped mowing the grass verges in the name of "rewilding". By which they really mean "saving money".

Then they decided to stop looking after one of our most magnificent beaches in the name of saving us from the "climate crisis".

Yes, they have actually had the brass necks to call it that.

What they really meant by that, by the way, is "because you lot around here vote the wrong way".

Doomed

And now they want to build a £1million-plus flood defence wall along one of our promenades to stop the projected tidal waves of the future.

The wall will only be four feet high, mind, with enough chance of stopping a tidal surge as I have of coping off with Emily Ratajkowski.

But who cares? It's other people's money. Might as well go for it.

Never mind that the council has been told to sell off leisure centres, golf clubs and libraries, and flog two historic town hall buildings to raise cash.

And never mind that they've decided they're all hi-falutin' business people now, snapping up a cinema (yes) and a former town centre House of Fraser department store (yes again).

This is so they can try once again to do what they have been doing for decades now, which is "regeneration" of a place that is

BEAUTIES:
Model Emily Ratajkowski and beach at Hoylake permanently doomed to failure.

Einstein said the very definition of madness is to keep doing the same thing over and over again while expecting a different result.

Yet that's exactly what councillors will do with other people's money, because they can't think of anything original themselves.

Councils are all largely skint, so what to do?

Yes! Let's spend even more! And how do they propose to do that, exactly?

By banging up our council taxes. That's on top of National Insurance going up, along with other sneaky tax rises introduced at Tory Chancellor Rishi Sunak's last Budget a couple of weeks ago.

And all of that comes before energy bills rocket and the predicted rise in inflation next year, which is only around the corner after all, to a whopping 5%.

To rich people and those with savings, that is good news.

But as most of us aren't rich and don't have savings, it's very bad news as it means bills for just about everything will go up.

Simple, say the politicians.

We'll just spend even more on shiny, stupid things and hope you don't notice until the next lot get voted in, whoever they are.

And on and on it goes.

We're bankrupt, folks. And the sooner the wonks who call themselves politicians admit it, it'll only get worse.

Kidnap girl rescued by TikTok SOS

A TEEN girl abducted by an older man was rescued after she flashed a passing motorist a hand sign popularised on TikTok as a distress signal.

The 16-year-old was at a traffic stop on a motorway in southern Kentucky when she made the gesture.

A fist enclosed across the thumb placed in front of the palm represents "violence at home, I need help, domestic violence".

A driver saw the SOS and called 911, then followed the Toyota Camry and provided authorities updates on their location.

The older man was later identified as 61-year-old James Brick, of Cherokee, North Carolina.

His phone contained a photo of a girl being portrayed in a sexual manner, police said.

Brick (above) was taken to the Laurel County Correctional Center and charged with unlawful imprisonment and possession of matter showing sex performances by a minor.

Soaring pizza prices could cause a riot

NEW York is braced for RIOT... because PIZZA in the Big Apple is rocketing in price.

For years, New Yorkers enjoyed slices of pizza from pavement vendors for just a dollar but price hikes have seen off the one-dollar slice.

Prices are rising because of inflationary food costs, a global supply chain crisis and national labour shortage.

Lenny Giordano, owner of Mona Lisa Pizzeria in Annadale on Staten Island, said: "Our profit margin goes down every day."

"We're trying not to scare people away with higher prices. If we raise prices according to rising food costs, we'll soon have no customers."

One New Yorker said: "If New Yorkers are denied their pizza, there'll be riots in the Big Apple."

BRITAIN'S MOST PROLIFIC PERVERT IS SPARED JAIL

More than two decades of upskirt pics

TARGETED WOMEN:
Andrew 'Smoggie' Mackie

A NOTORIOUS upskirt pervert nicknamed "Smoggie" has been spared jail despite targeting women for more than two decades.

Serial sex offender Andrew Mackie avoided prison despite violating the privacy of yet another victim.

The 51-year-old was arrested after taking photos on his phone of a young woman's legs, crotch and bottom. But when he was caught at Manchester Piccadilly train station, he had the audacity to moan: "It's a public place."

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

His vile behaviour has left countless victims traumatised.

In July 2001, he was convicted of indecent assault against a female over 16 and handed a two-year community order and put on the Sex Offenders Register.

He soon found himself back in court, after wandering around with a video camera, filming women's bottoms.

The creep roamed York railway station and the city's shopping centre and Museum Gardens in August 2003.

The 24-minute movie showed he repeatedly focused on women, tracked their bottoms, took upskirt footage and zoomed in on their breasts.

Jobless Mackie admitted a public order offence at York Magistrates' Court in May 2004 and was given another two-year community order.

Over the next five years he ended up in court numerous times for his crimes and even had a spell in prison.

Among his victims was a 20-year-old student.

Mackie had a vantage point to see into the woman's home from his flat and secretly filmed her getting undressed.

Disturbing

The court was told Mackie's sick behaviour dated back to 1998, when he would kneel down behind women and look up their skirts at bus stops.

By 2009, Mackie had begun targeting victims in the North West.

In November that year he admitted breaching his Sexual Offences Prevention Order by covertly taking more than 1,000 photos of women and a judge jailed him for two years.

In May 2011, Mackie was spotted following women and taking their photos from behind in Sandbach, Cheshire.

He was arrested and found to have 452 images of women he had targeted in Chester, Crewe and Manchester over a five-year period.

Mackie admitted breaching his SOPO at Liverpool Crown Court that November. Having already spent six months in custody, he was given a two-year supervision order.

In March 2012, Mackie struck again, this time disturbing a woman he followed onto an escalator in Chester.

Mackie admitted breaching his SOPO for the eighth time and was given nine months in jail, suspended for two years.

Mackie continued breaking the law until 2016, when he finally put down his cameras.

But he then targeted a woman at Manchester Piccadilly when she was sitting on a bench on July 31, 2020.

Mackie admitted operating equipment beneath clothing of another without consent.

Mackie, of Warrington, Cheshire, whose 25 previous convictions also include malicious communications, has consistently argued he is the one being victimised.

Magistrates handed Mackie 24 weeks in prison, suspended for two years, plus 30 rehabilitation days and a six-month home curfew.

They also imposed a new indefinite Sexual Harm Prevention Order.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Kelly,

MY wife is an escort and does most of her business from our house. She was a prostitute when we first met and I've no problem with it – she earns a good screw out of it and it keeps our heads above water financially and pays for a couple of good holidays each year.

More to the point, it's never really affected our relationship and sex life, which is good.

I usually go out when she "entertains", but one night last week I stayed in when she arrived home with two blokes.

They went upstairs and I heard her screaming "fk me hard". I had a look at what was going on and saw that she had a cock in her gob and another in her fanny.

They were squeezing her tits and left her covered in spunk. Watching them with my wife turned me on.

Do you think I'm a perv?

DS, south London

Kelly says...

NO, you've just got an unusual marriage.

Dear Kelly,

MY wife started going to a gym a few months ago because – to be honest – she had turned into a bit of a porker.

Our lifestyle hadn't helped, we'd got into the habit of sitting in front of the telly watching box sets by the ton and stuffing our faces with pizzas and beers just about every night of the week.

Anyway, with plenty of determination it seemed to work. After a few months I could see the weight dropping off her.

The good thing was it did wonders for our sex life – we actually started doing it again as she got fitter.

Our nookie sessions got more and more intense until I was struggling to keep up. Then the other night she emerged from the shower starkers with her chuff shaven.

She said one of the girls down the gym had said it was cleaner. But I had a right rant because I preferred her hairy minge.

Am I being unreasonable?

MH, Somerset

Kelly says...

YES. Be grateful you're getting sex again.

Lesbo pals enjoy my cock when they fancy a change

Dear Kelly,

I'm a 36-year-old bloke and I split from my wife last year and moved to a new area.

The neighbours have a 19-year-old daughter who knocks about with a busty pal the same age.

I was having a bath the other evening when the doorbell rang. It was the teens and they asked me to get them a drink.

I got a stiffy straight away through my towel, which one of them whipped off before getting down on her knees and wrapping her lips around my cock.

She sucked me off while the other one pulled her G-string off and licked her mate's clit.

Then they swapped over and the other one got my knob in her gob and her sexy pal's tongue up her fanny.

They told me to lie back on the carpet while one of them straddled me and eased her pussy down on my rock-hard length.

She started to go like the clappers and the other girl knelt over my face so I could get my tongue up her slit.

It was an amazing shag, having both these teen stunnas at the same time.

But they have since told me they are lesbians and only have cock when they fancy a change.

Should I believe them?

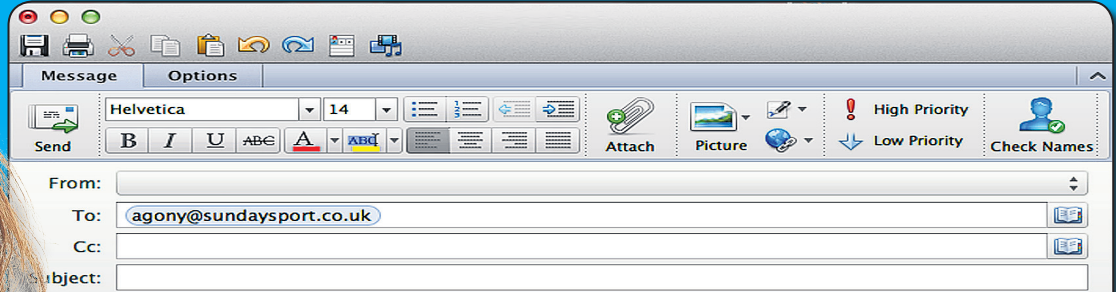

HW, Dorset

Kelly says...

JUST do what you're asked to do.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week KELLY MCGREGOR has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Dance babe turns on my hubby... and me!

Dear Kelly,

RECENTLY my hubby came home from a night out with the lads so horny that before I could even blurt out "sober up" I was on the carpet with my knees either side of my ears. It was the best shag I'd had for ages, but it wasn't enough for him.

On the way upstairs he took me from behind on the landing, and once in bed he rammed his rock-hard cock home again from the front.

As we lay there sweating, he told me all about the raunchy girls he'd seen at a lap-dancing club.

Even at the thought of it, I could feel his cock starting to harden again.

I couldn't believe the effect it had had on him but still I was grateful, if a little sore, that he'd been there.

To give my fanny some relief, I took his prick in my mouth and proceeded to gobble.

Then I climbed on top of him and, in a grinding movement with my hips, rapidly brought him off again.

A day or two later my curiosity got the better of me and I went with a mate to the club to see for myself what it was all about. And I wasn't disappointed.

The girls were sensational and the effect they had on the blokes there was electrifying.

We were having a drink at the bar when one of the girls came over during her break and said she knew me.

Raunchy

Then I realised it was a friend I'd last seen 10 years before at university when we used to party together.

We had a great chat and I explained why I was there.

We laughed and joked and as we were leaving she offered to come round to my place and show me a few routines to get my husband fired up again.

When she called we had a few drinks and another chat and, behind closed curtains, stripped off to some raunchy music.

When we were both naked and close up, she kissed me full on the lips and I responded.

Her hands were down to my fanny in a flash and she fingered me to orgasm.

I returned the favour and after another kiss and a cuddle we licked each other out.

Later, I told my hubby, thinking it would turn him on, but instead he went mad at me, calling me a lesbian.

We are still shagging, but I'm seeing my girlfriend too.

What do you think I should do?

MG, Derbyshire

Kelly says...

CARRY on. It sounds great to me.

Dear Kelly,

Kinky outfits have spiced up sex life

Dear Kelly,

WHILE tidying up one day, I dug into the depths of my husband's wardrobe and found a stash of porn.

It was full of photos of men and women doing all kinds of things to each other and wearing outrageous outfits.

As I looked at the mags, I began to get aroused. In fact, it wasn't long before my hand slipped down my panties and I began to bring myself off.

When my husband got home I told him that I'd found his dirty little secret but that I didn't mind at all – in fact, he should have told me about it long before.

We had a long chat and agreed we shared a liking for kinky kit and that introducing it to our sex lives could really spice things up in the bedroom.

Thrust

So we decided we would experiment with a few outfits. We went to a sex shop and I was delighted with our purchases and could hardly wait to get home.

We burst through the door, shedding our clothes as we went. He put on a leather pouch and mask and I donned a basque. He tied my hands with a silk scarf and pushed me down on the bed.

He thrust into me doggy-style as I pulled aside his pouch, gripping his balls as he lashed into me.

We came together and I couldn't believe what my discovery in the wardrobe had led to.

Now I wonder if we can keep it up.

HK, south Yorkshire

Kelly says...

SOUNDS like your hubby won't have any trouble there.

#MY SEX FANTASY

...WITH
STELLA JONES
34DD-23-34
FROM BRIGHTON

'I love it up the bum but take it slow'

MY biggest fantasy is being taken up the bum!
 "I think because it's so naughty it really turns me on and it feels good too."
 "There's a lot of nerve endings back there and when you're being penetrated, the bloke's willy can rub your vaginal wall which can trigger an orgasm. It literally makes me explode."
 "But the guy has to do it right."
 "If you bash it in there like you're plunging a sink, then it's going to hurt the woman, not turn her on and you really don't want that."
 "The trick is to take everything very, very, very slowly and use lots and lots and lots of lube."

#HOT'N'HORNY

KINKY Aria Giovanni was born across the Pond in Los Angeles but, as you might have guessed from her name, she has Italian roots.

Curvy Aria loves dressing up in sexy PVC outfits and enjoys rough sex.

She says she even likes getting spanked.

The 34FF cracker said: "I really love being submissive and for a guy to boss me about and take control."

"It's such a massive turn-on."

Bitten

"Power is such a strong aphrodisiac. I love kneeling on the floor, looking into the eyes of a strong, sexy man."

"And I love being spanked on the bottom before the sex act and having my hair pulled and being bitten lightly when we do it."

"It's so animalistic and it's an adrenaline rush. I love to experience all sensations!"

SPECIAL OFFER: ANY 3 PRIVATE SHOPS DVDS FOR £25 (was £75)

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Down on Abby this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down on Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

MIA MALKOVA

BARISTA Harry Taunton says his coffee isn't the only thing that froths when he catches a glimpse of Mia Malkova.

The 37-year-old coffee expert, from Llandudno, Wales, says Gina really gets him going.

Harry said: "I love my job and I spend my days making milky, frothy coffees, but at night I love looking at photos of Mia's 34C norks."

"Whenever I ogle her bare boobs, my coffee isn't the only thing that gets milky and frothy. Please print another photo of her!"

BONNIE SIMON

COMMUNITY support worker Aasim Khan absolutely loves his all-time favourite glamour girl Bonnie Simon.

The 49-year-old, from Accrington in Lancs, wrote in to ask for a saucy snap of Bonnie, from Esher in Surrey.

Aasim said: "I have an elderly man I regularly visit at work and he always buys the Sport, so whenever I go round I have a flick through."

"Bonnie's 34D knockers always get me going and she's not only my favourite stunna but also my client's. Make both our days, will you?"

GEORGINA LAW

WINDOW cleaner Martin Sykes begged us for a photo of glamour legend Georgina Law.

The 59-year-old, from Hartlepool, says he's seen some sights over the years but he's never seen anyone like the 36C Huddersfield stunna.

He said: "She's a beauty is Georgina."

"Every time I see a photo of her I go weak at the knees."

"In my years as a window cleaner I've seen plenty of naked women through the windows, but if I saw Georgina in the nude I'd probably fall off my ladder!"

WHEN Jay Harris first whipped her kit off for a camera she was incredibly shy about revealing her body.

Now, the 30DD babe is so comfortable being naked she answered the door with no clothes on to a shocked pizza delivery driver!

Popped

Jay, from Derby, said: "I used to be really shy about getting naked – but now it's just second nature."

"I recently ordered a pizza and forgot to put any clothes on when I answered the door."

"The man's eyes nearly popped out of his head!"

CROCKED: Jason Roy

England semi woe after Roy misses out

CRICKET: T20 WORLD CUP

ENGLAND have a big call to make after Jason Roy was forced out of their semi-final against New Zealand.

The opener has torn his left calf and won't be able to play.

James Vince has come into the squad but he's not likely to go in first with Jos Buttler.

Roy said: "I'm gutted to be ruled out of the World Cup.

"It is a bitter pill to swallow. I will be staying on to support the boys and hopefully we can go all the way and lift that trophy.

"It has been an unbelievable journey so far and we have to continue expressing ourselves and concentrating on us.

"The rehab has already started and even though I've torn my calf, I'm going to give myself the best chance of being ready for the T20 tour of the Caribbean at the start of next year."

Sam Billings is one option to open the innings but Jonny Bairstow has also had joy in the position.

Commanding

England skipper Eoin Morgan is gutted to have lost big-hitter Roy for such an important match.

He said: "He epitomises everything that we are about in the changing room and the way we play.

"You see how commanding he is at the top of the order — he's as close as we get to how the changing room should play.

"We're gutted for Jase but also half-hoping that he's OK.

"For anyone to miss the latter stages of a tournament — particularly when it's been too guys in two games — that does hurt the mood.

"You got through the names that either aren't here through injury or other reasons: Archer, Stokes, Sam Curran, Tymal Mills.

"You look back at the times that you've really explored and tried to build a squad, and I'm sitting here thankful that we have done that because we're going to need those guys in the next game and possibly in the final."

UNITED BOARD STAND BY NORWEGIAN BOSS

OLE GETS TIME TO SORT UTD

Reds will stick by under-fire gaffer

OLE Gunnar Solskjaer will be given all the time he needs to turn Manchester United around.

There is NO desire at Old Trafford to show the Norwegian the door.

That's despite the Reds suffering another embarrassing defeat in front of their own fans.

It was bad enough when Liverpool won 5-0 at Old Trafford but the sight of City treating the Manchester derby as a testimonial and strolling to a 2-0 success was almost worse.

The fact that Pep Guardiola's men could take the mickey out of their big rivals was hard to take.

Despite that, Solskjaer says he doesn't feel like his time is running out as United boss.

He added: "No, I don't start to feel like that.

"I have good communication all the time with the club that's very up-front and honest about the situation.

By PAUL THOMAS

"I'm sure when we come back the players will be fresh in their minds from internationals, and of course the demands on the players, on me, are going to be high.

"We've just got to get back to what we started to look like and what we were for a while. We've got the players to do that.

"We've been through this a few times. Since the last game we played here, it's been a very difficult period and we've gone away from what we used to be.

"We need to be on the front foot more, I can't look at myself and say this is the way I want Manchester United to play."

The Norwegian is on solid ground as United's board are making it clear that they won't be getting the axe out while the international break is on.

He is expected to be in charge against Watford when the Premier League kicks off again in a fortnight.

Old Trafford insiders say there is no chance of Solskjaer being fired at the moment.

That may come as a shock to some former United legends with Roy Keane and Gary Neville wondering if Ole is still the right man to be in charge.

Bluffers

The former Ireland skipper thinks Solskjaer may walk rather than wait for the boot.

He reckons the likes of Luke Shaw, Eric Bailly and Fred are just not good enough to be at the club.

Keane said: "If you've got bluffers on the bus with you and you're dependent on these guys, Ole you might be better off out of it." Neville is never shy of a word about goings-on at United. And he admits his old mate Ole is under more and more pressure with every defeat.

He said: "Ole is under massive, massive pressure but the first thing that has to happen is that he needs a team with courage.

"Up to the end of last season, the feeling at Old Trafford was that there was progression because they finished second in the league.

"Everyone then thought that they got their recruitment right in the summer.

"So the club has not planned for this. I know there are some United fans who think the club should have acted two weeks ago because Antonio Conte was available but this club was never going to appoint Conte and they are not prepared for this moment because they have the plan behind Ole."

Neville thinks letting Conte go to

DESPITE TWO DEMOLITION DERBIES

UNITED'S SAVIOUR:

out Solskjaer – but for how much longer?

Spurs is further proof that the Reds will not be changing their manager any time soon.

He added: "I don't think there is any chance there will a decision during this season unless it gets so bad and it is getting to the point where it is so bad."

"They are nine points off the top of the league and this United squad should not be so far off the top of the table."

Figures

"Nobody has expected this. Nobody would have expected United would sink so low at this point in the season."

"I think he has a few weeks to sort it out."

One factor in Solskjaer's favour is the lack of an obvious alternative.

Many pundits thought Conte would be the right man but it seems that figures in the United set-up didn't want another big personality gaffer after being stung by Jose Mourinho and Luis Van Gaal who failed to bring success.

Zinedine Zidane is high up the list but the former Real Madrid gaffer is thought to be waiting to take over the French national side.

Didier Deschamps is likely to step down after next year's World Cup and Zizou wants to take over.

Talk this week has turned back to Mauricio Pochettino who was linked after the Liverpool defeat.

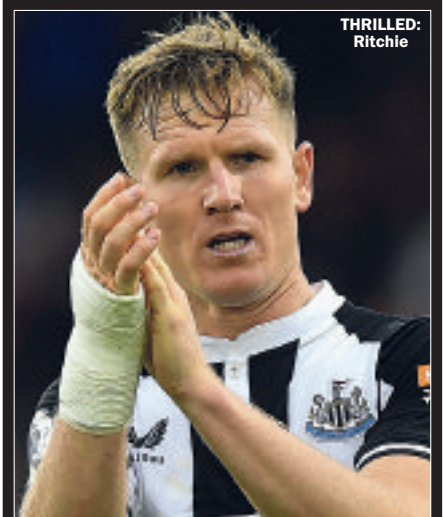

There could be a problem with the former Spurs gaffer taking over should Ralf Rangnick be offered the director of football job.

Pochettino is not interested in the job if it means he doesn't buy his own players.

Rangnick is current head of football at Russian side Spartak Moscow but is being linked with United.

Toon strike it Ritch with Howe move

EDDIE Howe will bring out the very best in Newcastle's struggling squad says Matt Ritchie.

The Toon wing-back says he loved every minute of playing under the new Magpies boss when they were together at Bournemouth.

Howe has been confirmed as the successor to Steve Bruce as he takes over a team mired in the relegation zone.

Ritchie thinks it won't take long to see major improvements at St James's Park. He said: "For me my time with him was fantastic, I loved every minute. We have a young hungry group here and I am sure he can bring out the best in them if he is appointed."

"What he did at Bournemouth was nothing short of a miracle."

"I have all the praise in the world for him. We have some really talented players. It is just about getting the group confidence."

Some Newcastle fans are concerned that Howe left Burnley after short spell in 2012 because he was homesick.

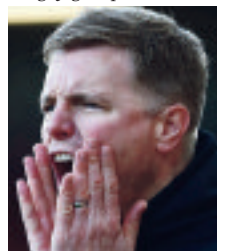

Settled

But the new Toon boss says that wasn't the case.

Howe added: "I needed to move my family to a new area, so, Burnley attracted me and that side. Also the fact there was a real challenge on there."

"They'd fallen out of the Premier League and the brief was to get them back into the Premier League."

"My family were settled off the pitch I had no issues at all. As I said, the people there treated me superbly and there were no issues on that side."

NEW IN TOON: Eddie Howe

"We did a lot of work and felt that we were on the right track but it never quite took off and we never quite got the consistency."

"We never got the run of results we wanted but ultimately, the reason why I decided to leave was because of the death of my mum."

"That was the change that brought me back home."

One Toon legend is delighted to see the new man finally in the St James's Park dugout.

Alan Shearer hopes Howe is the right man to get Newcastle out of the relegation zone.

"They are currently five points adrift of safety with some tasty matches coming up."

Arsenal, Liverpool and both Manchester clubs are all looming before the new year."

Shearer said online: "Welcome. Good luck Eddie."

"We all hope you can bring us some much needed drive and ambition."

IT'S MARTINEZ V STEVIE AT VILLA

ROBERTO Martinez and Rangers boss Steven Gerrard are front-runners for the Aston Villa job.

The former Everton gaffer is thought to be interested in swapping his role as Belgium manager to take over at Villa Park.

But Gerrard is friends with the Brummies' CEO Christian Purslow who had the same role at Liverpool while he was skipper.

Villa showed Dean Smith the door after a poor start to the season. The club will take the international break to contact possible new gaffers.

Gerrard's pal Jamie Carragher expects him to stay in Glasgow until the end of the campaign.

He said: "I think Aston Villa as a club would be a great move for Steven Gerrard. I think in a perfect world you'd want to stay at Rangers to the end of the season and come away from there with two titles."

HOWE-AY THE LADS

Eddie already working on Toon signings

EDDIE Howe has a big shopping list of the players who can keep Newcastle in the Premier League.

The 43-year-old has finally been named as the successor to Steve Bruce.

But he takes over the Toon in a dodgy position.

Newcastle are bottom of

By JOHN ANTHONY

the table with just five points on the board.

They have yet to win this season and the gap to safety is getting bigger by the week.

They are five points adrift and take on the likes of Arsenal, Liverpool and both Manchester clubs before the turn of the year.

Looking at past seasons, if Newcastle don't win at least three of their next seven matches it will be almost impossible to beat the drop.

Howe has money to spend thanks to the Toon's Saudi owners and he has his eye on two players from Manchester United.

Jesse Lingard and Donny van de Beek are both out in the cold at Old Trafford and would be open to moves in January.

Newcastle are also linked to Bayern Munich centre-back Niklas Sule.

The 26-year-old almost moved to Chelsea last summer and is thought to be keen on a Toon move.

The 6ft 5in tower would cost around £35m and solve a big problem at St James's.
